

Going to 'Walk The Walk for Autism'

I am going to Walk the Walk for Autism today.

I am going to walk with other people. There will be lots of people at the walk. If the noise bothers me, I can take a break or wear headphones. That is okay.

When I first get to there, my team will get registered. Once I am registered, I will get a t-shirt, I will wear my green t-shirt on the day of the walk.

Before the walk starts, I can choose to play games, see some animals at the petting zoo, use the bouncy castle, blow bubbles, get my face painted, or any other activities that are happening at the time.

Once I hear the announcer talk through the microphone, I know that the activities will stop until after the walk. The announcer will tell me when I can start the walk with my team.

The walk begins at the LCLC. This is a short walk. My team will choose to walk inside or outside on a trail. If I walk outside on the trail, I can get my picture taken at halfway then turn around and come back to the LCLC. I will follow the map.

When I 'Walk the Walk for Autism', I must follow some rules.

1. I must follow the map directions for the walk outside.
2. If I need help I can ask the person who is wearing a red volunteer t-shirt. That person is there to help me.
3. It is okay to stop and take a break.
4. I will listen to the adults in my team. This will keep me safe.

After I return from the walk, I can play games and have lunch. I can have a hot dog and a cold drink. There is also cake.

After I have lunch, then the walk will be end. Everyone will go home. I will have fun at 'Walk the Walk for Autism'.
